Business Leaders Get the Edge

Carver High School FBLA Recognized with Top Honors

(Columbus, GA)—Anaheim is one of the country's most popular tourist destinations, a place well-suited for over 7,800 Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) to Get the Edge.

Mariah Porter, president of the local chapter at Carver High School, is a national winner who was recognized at the FBLA Awards of Excellence on June 28. Porter competed for the Hamden L. Forkner Award by preparing a Local Chapter Annual Business Report (LCABR), which earned her 2nd place. Business reports are used extensively to inform management, staff, stockholders, and the general public about all aspects of the business. The Hamden L. Forkner Award recognizes FBLA chapters that effectively summarize activities throughout the year. The event provides participants with valuable experience in preparing annual business reports. The Carver High School FBLA is recognized as one of the top 10 chapters in the state of Georgia.

“All of the activities we participate in each year helped our LCABR to be so impressive,” said Carver’s Lead FBLA Adviser, Micki Masters. “Mariah Porter and Dr. Michelle Nichols did a great job developing the award winning report.”

Congratulations to the members and advisers for their commitment to excellence. For more information, e-mail communications@mcsdga.net.
