NEWS RELEASE

Be There Safe Kids of Columbus Free Life Jacket Event

(Columbus, GA)—The school year is coming to an end and the Muscookee County School District is encouraging parents to stay engaged in their child's education throughout the summer break. Parents and students are invited to Be There at the Safe Kids of Columbus free life jacket event on Thursday, May 27, 2010, from 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m. at Lake Oliver City Marina, 5501 River Road.

It is a great time to learn basic water safety skills and tips to help you and your child enjoy the summer in and out of the water. Children age 4 to 14 will receive a free life jacket (while supplies last). So, Be There! The free life jackets will be given away on a first come, first serve basis. A parent/caregiver must be present to sign a waiver for the free life jacket.

For more Safe Kids information, call (706) 321-6183. For more information on Be There, a Muscookee County School District parent involvement campaign, e-mail communications@mcsdga.net.
